

Construction & Engineering

We specialise in the design, marketing and servicing of insurance, reinsurance and risk management programmes for clients involved in many of the largest construction and engineering projects in Asia. Our experience and expertise cover every area of insurance associated with the construction and engineering industries, whether the contract involves bridges, dams, processing plants or power plants. Our ability to place highly competitive programmes from pre-construction through to operational risk, has earned us the reputation of being the pre-eminent construction broker, with skills that are held in the highest regard.
